"This offers classic if delicate varietal scents of white flower, Bartlett pear and a citrus note. The vibrant, linear palate shows crisp green apple and tangerine zest alongside racy acidity that gives it a tangy finish." - Kerin O'Keefe, Wine Enthusiast, 04/01/2016

Punggl Pinot Grigio is grown in the Punggl vineyard, (meaning 'hill' in south Tyrolean dialect) home to 80 year old vines.

Clay based sandy soil and consistent warm temperatures allow for good body and structure, and the long, lingering finish from the age of vines.

Orange, honey and hay accompany the zesty and fruity aromas of this Pinot Grigio. The body and juicy structure coming from deep clay soils, and the long finish fashioned by the aged vines, make this wine a great companion to intensely flavored starters, fish and white meats.
