

The Authentic Taste...

Limoncello is a precious lemon liqueur which is said to give vital energy to those who drink it; the same energy obtained from the Earth, natural sunlight, and the essential oils contained in the very special lemon peel of the Amalfi Coast lemon.

The manufacturing process of Limoncello is made up of several phases: first, the selection of the unique aromatic quality of the Verdelli lemons from the Amalfi Coast. The lemons are then prepared entirely by hand. After being carefully washed and peeled, the peel is finely sliced, and together with the lemon, is soaked in sealed bottles of alcohol for twenty days at least. After this stage, the preparation of the syrup begins with glucose, water, and sugar, to help the infusion of lemon. Finally, the mixture is filtered, ready to be bottled.

RUSSO boasts extensive experience in the production of fine liquors, and the fact that the company is family operated favours the rigorously artisan production process that they have preserved, and faithfully handed down, over the past three generations.

RUSSO Limoncello is a natural artisanal liqueur, made with hand cut Verdelli lemon peels grown on the Amalfi Coast, and prepared without dyes or additives.

Enjoy ice cold, drizzled over ice cream, or for a light, refreshing thirst quencher, mix with soda or Prosecco. It can also be used as a cooking ingredient in many dishes and desserts.
